Strong Youth Project

Case study by Ethan Hawkes

30 Second Brief

Standardized, and finished an ongoing mobile redesign with tokens and components to speed up development. Expanded design to an early stage admin portal using the same tokens.

My role

Refined and expanded app redesign, extending to new admin portal.

Scope

Token and components creation collaborating with development, UI design.

Impact

Created 77 tokens, 8 text style and 12 components to standardize designs and speed up development.

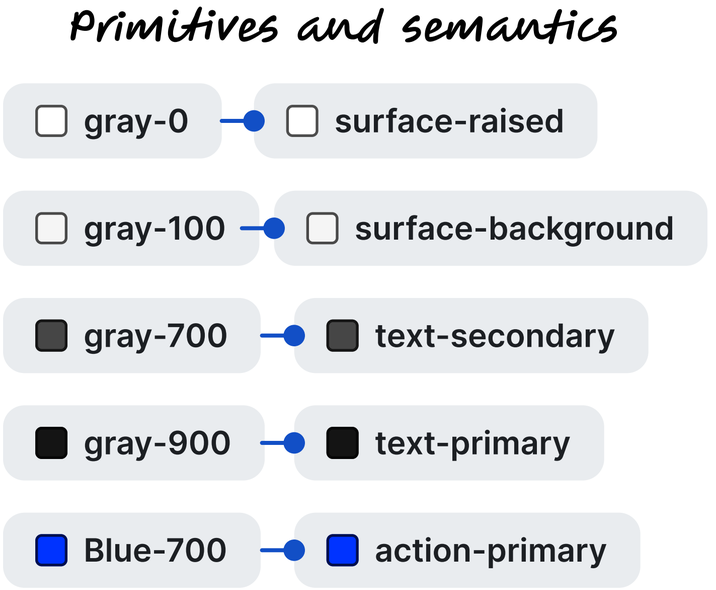

Problem & Task

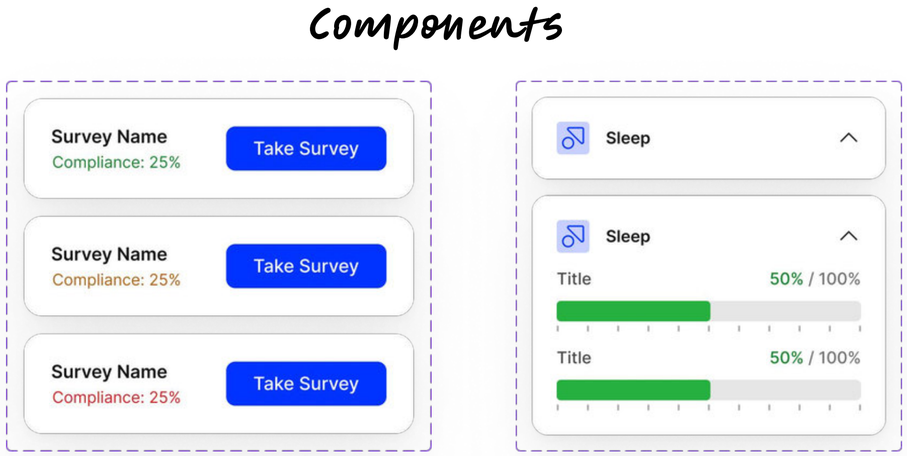

When I joined an ongoing redesign was incomplete and in active development. I was asked to quickly finish, standardize, and extend the redesign.

Standardizing through tokens and components

With development already underway, I first created 77 design tokens, 8 text styles, and 12 reusable components.

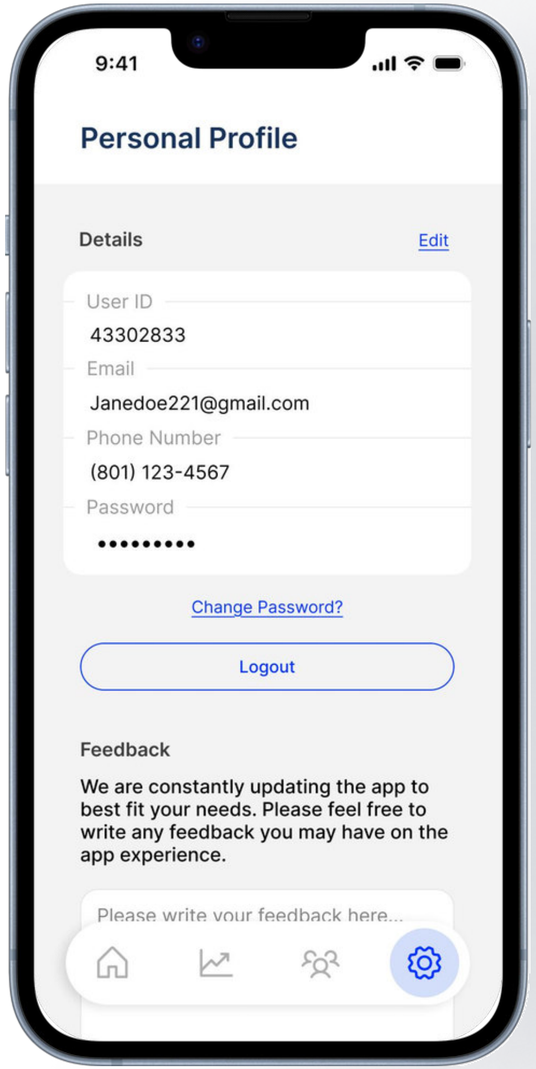

These could fix inconsistencies in the design while supporting reusable UI and code.

Building admin portal with AI through defined architecture

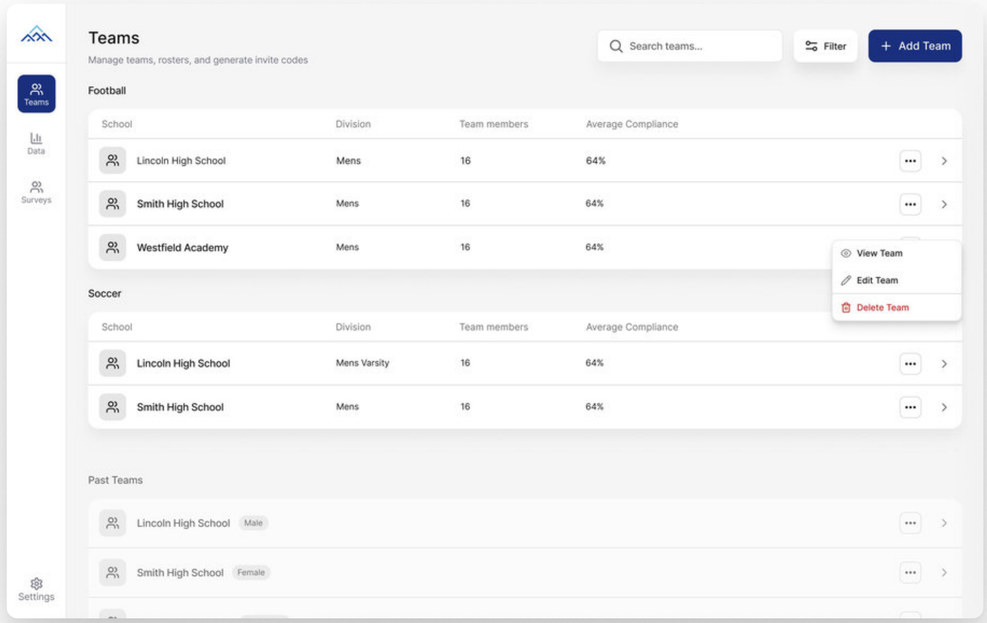

The devs needed the portal within two weeks.

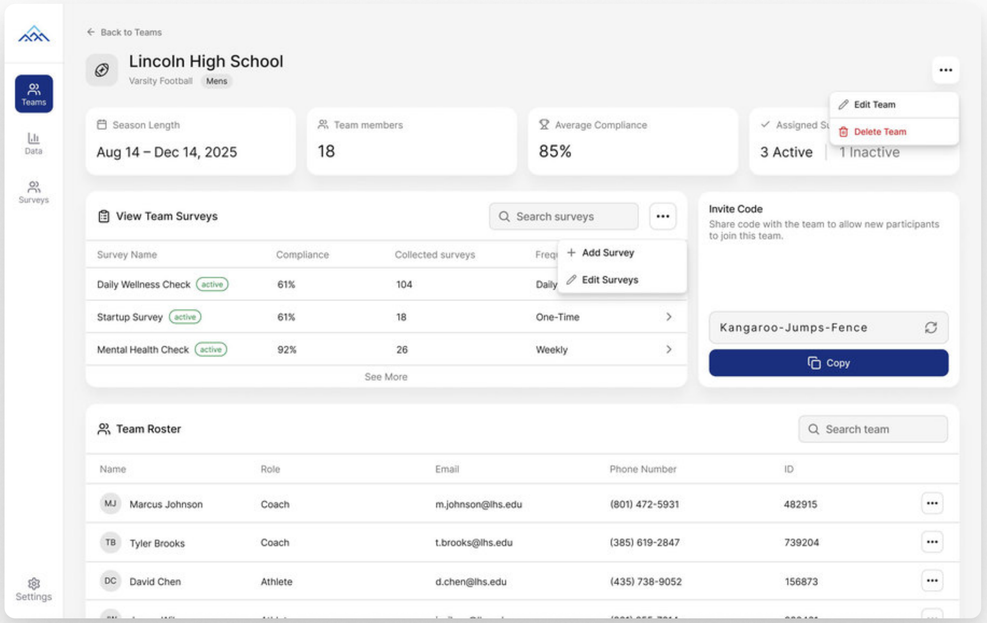

To support this timeframe I first drafted the high level information architecture, then used that and defined tokens to guide AI creation.

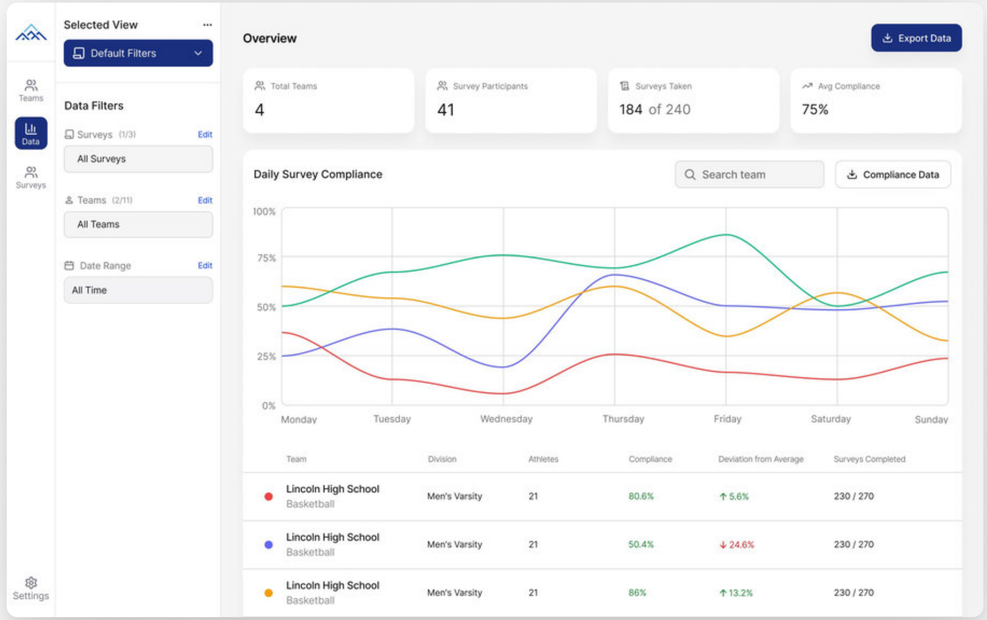

Afterwards I cleaned up the AI outputs.

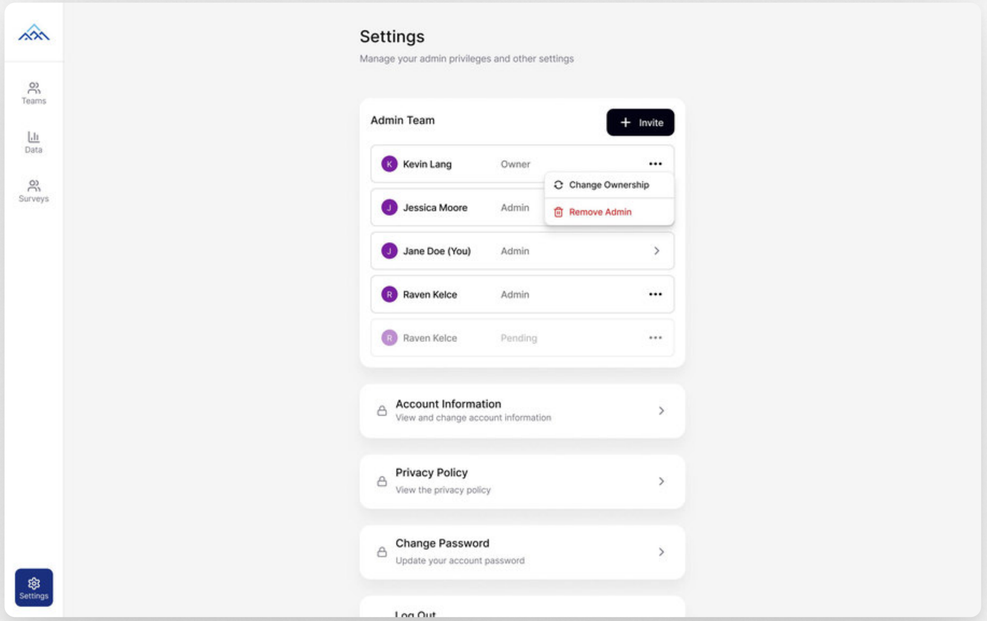

Final human refined outputs
